Italian Republic Restaurant Ubbo – Lisbon, construction documents produced in Archicad

This project involved the refurbishment of a restaurant in the Italian Republic chain, reusing several building elements and pieces of equipment from the previous unit, and optimising costs and construction time without compromising the quality of the final result.

Interior Design Project | Hotel Prior Velho | May 2026

Interior design for a hotel near Lisbon Airport – Under construction.

This project presents a contemporary boutique hotel in Lisbon, designed to transform the transitory experience associated with an airport hotel into one of permanence, comfort and identity.

The project's identity is built through a material and sensory approach, highlighting the relationship between architecture, interiors, light, texture and colour. The result is a series of spaces that are distinct from one another, yet coherent within a shared language.

Materiality plays a central role: dark wood, mineral and stone finishes, fabrics, metals and a palette of earthy tones create a warm and sophisticated atmosphere. Almada Negrais stone, particularly present in the reception and in pieces of furniture, brings a natural and artisanal dimension to the space.

The common areas and circulation spaces take on a more intense and enveloping expression, while the guest rooms adopt a calmer, brighter and more residential language.

The project comprises 31 rooms, shared dining and social areas, a bar and a rooftop lounge — spaces conceived as extensions of the guest experience, beyond the simple function of accommodation.

Its proximity to Lisbon Airport, initially associated with a sense of transit, thus becomes the starting point for a hospitality experience defined by comfort, identity and the appreciation of the senses.

Sabor Gaúcho Restaurant – Amoreiras Shopping Centre, Lisbon | Construction documents in Archicad.

This project presents Sabor Gaúcho, a restaurant specialising in Brazilian barbecue. The main aim of the proposal was to translate and reinforce the brand identity within the space, adapting it to the context and design language of the Amoreiras Shopping Centre in Lisbon.

Through the choice of materials, colours and design elements, the aim was to create a welcoming and contemporary atmosphere, while preserving the essence and identity of Brazilian cuisine.

The restaurant is now open, offering its guests the experience of tasting the traditional flavour of Brazilian barbecue.
